| 1 | App Design, Layout &amp; Navigation <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>– Designed the overall look and feel of the app — colours, fonts, buttons, and spacing — so it feels clean and professional on any phone.</li><li>– Built the main navigation: a header bar at the top and a bottom menu bar for switching between sections of the app.</li><li>– Each user only sees the tabs relevant to their role — a mentor sees different options than a mentee or administrator.</li><li>– Tapping the user's initials opens a profile panel to view details and log out.</li><li>– Shows a smooth loading screen on startup and a clear message if a user has not been given access to any section.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 45,000.00 |
| 2 | Mentorship Lifecycle Module <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>– The largest part of the app — covers everything a mentor needs to run an on-site mentorship programme from start to finish.</li><li>– Mentors create a new mentorship by following a step-by-step wizard: choose the facility, select the programme, assign a co-mentor, and set dates.</li><li>– Within each mentorship, mentors manage classes — start a class, add training modules, and formally close it once complete.</li><li>– For each module, the mentor marks attendance for each mentee (present or absent) with an option to mark everyone at once.</li><li>– Session notes can be added to record what was covered or any important observations during a session.</li><li>– Mentors can add existing staff as mentees, create new mentee accounts, remove participants, and generate a self-enrolment link.</li><li>– Mentees see only their own classes, their progress through each module, and upcoming sessions.</li><li>– A reports tab gives mentors a summary of attendance rates, modules completed, and how each mentee is progressing.</li></ul> | 95,000.00 |
| 3 | Global Trainings Module <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>– A separate section for national and county-level training events organised centrally — distinct from on-site facility mentorships.</li><li>– Users browse upcoming and past trainings, see full details (dates, location, objectives), and enrol themselves if eligible.</li><li>– Participants confirm their attendance directly through the app, keeping records up to date without paperwork.</li><li>– Has its own navigation and visual style, clearly separate from the mentorship area to avoid confusion.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 20,000.00 |
